17. Card of Thanks

THANK YOU, dear friends and relatives, for cards, letters, phone calls, transportation, food gifts and lodging, and especially your prayers and concerns while I underwent planned surgery at Potomac Hospital, Woodbridge, Va. We also thank the people of Appomattox for the warmth in which they have accepted Gertrude and myself after being away from the county 44 years. We are beginning to feel like we have lived here all of our lives. We wish you a blessed Christmas and Happy New Year.

Jeter Witt Wooddridge and Gertrude

17/12-9-1tp

The family of Mrs. Willis Hawkins would like to express their appreciation for the love and concern and other acts of kindness shown during her illness and death. God bless you all.

Shirley Jennings

17/12-9-1tc

MY SINCERE appreciation is extended to each and everyone of my family and friends who have remembered me so kindly while in the hospital and since my return home. The flowers were beautiful, the visits, phone calls, cards, food, prayers and your many acts of kindness meant a lot to me. May God bless each of you.

Mary Ranson

17/12-9-1tc

I WOULD like to thank my friends and neighbors and everyone for their kindness when I was in the hospital and since I returned home. I would like to thank you for food, flowers, fruits, offering of money, cards also lots and lots of phone calls, visits and all acts of kindness shown my family. May God bless and be with you all.

50. Memoriams

In loving memory of Cindy Smith who passed away December 9, 1980.

Only two years have passed
Since you were taken away;
Yet, We miss you more now
Than words could ever say.
Memories of you linger
In our hearts everyday,
Your smile, your fun-loving and care free ways.
Oh, we often want to question
Why God took you away
But we rest with the assurance
That we will be together someday.
Dear God, make us worthy
Of our purpose here today.
Let not Cindy's death
Ever lead us to go astray.
Sadly missed and loved, by Mother, Father, and Sister

80/12-9-1tp

Notice To The Public

The Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries at a meeting held in Richmond, Virginia on October 15, 1982, adopted the following amended regulations pursuant to Sections 29-125, 29-126 and 29-127 of the Code of Virginia, to become effective January 1, 1983.

80. Notices

unlawful to have any walleye or yellow pike perch less than fifteen inches in length in one's possession on Gaston Reservoir. It shall be unlawful to have any smallmouth, largemouth or spotted bass from eleven to thirteen inches in length, both inclusive, in one's possession on the South Fork Shenandoah River from the Luray Power dam near Luray downstream to its confluence with the North Fork Shenandoah River at Riverton.

In accordance with authority conferred by § 29-11 of the Code of Virginia, the Commission finds and declares the following species to be predatory or undesirable within the meaning and intent of those terms as used in § 29-158 of the Code, in that their introduction into the State will be detrimental to the native fish resources of Virginia: Piranha (any of the genus Serrasalmus, Rooseveltiella, Pygocentrus), walking catfish (any of genus Clarias), cichlid (Texas) perch (Chichlasoma cyanoguttatum), grass carp (any of genus Ctenopharyngodon) or any hybridized derivative of the grass carp. It shall be unlawful, pursuant to § 29-158 of the Code, to import, cause to be imported, buy, sell or offer for sale or liberate within the State any of the abovenamed species unless a permit therefor is first obtained from the Commission.

Chapter 24.
Trout Fishing

R24-2, making exceptions to the general open angling season for trout in certain counties, is hereby rescinded.

R24-9.1. For the purposes of this chapter "artificial lure with single hook" shall mean any single point hook lure (with no multiple point hooks) and shall include manufactured or handmade flies, spinners, plugs, spoons and facsimiles of live animals, but shall not be construed to include artificial fish eggs.

Chapter 27. Minnows, Hellgrammites and Crayfish.

R27-2. Except as provided in R23-9, R25-6 and R25-7, minnows may be taken from the public inland waters by any person for private use as bait and not for sale with a minnow haul seine not exceeding four feet in depth by fifteen feet in length or by an umbrella type net not exceeding five by five feet in diameter and with small minnow traps, and non-game fish may be taken for personal use as bait and not for sale with cast nets not to exceed eight feet in diameter and hand-held bow nets with bow diameter not to exceed twenty inches and handle length not to exceed eight feet, and such cast net and hand-held bow nets when so used shall not be deemed dip nets under the provisions of Section 29-110 of the Code. No permit shall be required for taking minnows for private use.

Commission Of Game And Inland Fisheries
Dr. George L. Sheppard Jr., Chairman

During the month of December, all citizens of Appomattox County are urged to participate in promoting the enjoyment of reading.

Parents and children can become involved together to illustrate that reading is an enjoyable activity.

1. Silent reading. The entire family sits down together and reads silently for pleasure for 10-20 minutes. During this time there is no radio, television, or stereo. Also, take the phone off the hook!

2. Sequence. Cut out an appropriate comic strip (one your child can understand) from the newspaper. Cut apart the sections and have the child arrange the pictures in the correct order. Encourage him or her to elaborate on the story.

3. Library. Visit your local library. Get your child his/her own library card.

4. Shopping. Take your children with you to the grocery store. Let the younger children find as many compound words in the store as they can (example - oatmeal). Let older children read the nutritional labels on some of the packages and discover what the main ingredients are.

5. Driving. See how many signs your children can read. Teach them the signs they do not know.

6. Alphabet night. Let your primary age child choose a letter of the alphabet and together plan a menu with foods all beginning with that letter. For example, the letter p could include pasta, pears, and punch. Older children can read the recipes with you and help prepare the meal.

7. Oral reading. Read to your children out loud and then let them read out loud to you. Rather than asking them factual questions, such as "What was the color of John's shirt?", ask them to share their feelings about what they read.

8. Television. Sit down and watch a television program with your children. Let them read the program description in the television guide. After the show, discuss your children's feelings about it.

9. Games. Have the family play a board game together and let your children read the directions out loud.

10. Newspaper. Choose a part of the newspaper that would interest your child. (The comics are OK!) Read this section with the child and discuss the information.

11. Writing. Write a letter to your child letting him/her know why you think s/he is so special. Read it to him/her. Let your child write a similar letter to you.

12. Following directions. Hide an object (a new book?) somewhere in the house and give your child written directions for finding it.

13. Drama. Act out a simple fairy tale using pictures or puppets.

14. Dinner table. Let everyone share one piece of information that they learned through reading.

15. Poetry. Read some poetry to your family. Make up limericks about family members.

16. Construction. Make a scrapbook, photo album, mobile, or puzzle.

Enjoy your reading

5. Driving. See how many signs your children can read. Teach them the signs they do not know.

6. Alphabet night. Let your primary age child choose a letter of the alphabet and together plan a menu with foods all beginning with that letter. For example, the letter p could include pasta, pears, and punch. Older children can read the recipes with you and help prepare the meal.

7. Oral reading. Read to your children out loud and then let them read out loud to you. Rather than asking them factual questions, such as "What was the color of John's shirt?", ask them to share their feelings about what they read.

8. Television. Sit down and watch a television program with your children. Let them read the program description in the television guide. After the show, discuss your children's feelings about it.

9. Games. Have the family play a board game together and let your children read the directions out loud.

10. Newspaper. Choose a part of the newspaper that would interest your child. (The comics are OK!) Read this section with the child and discuss the information.

11. Writing. Write a letter to your child letting him/her know why you think s/he is so special. Read it to him/her. Let your child write a similar letter to you.

12. Following directions. Hide an object (a new book?) somewhere in the house and give your child written directions for finding it.

13. Drama. Act out a simple fairy tale using pictures or puppets.

14. Dinner table. Let everyone share one piece of information that they learned through reading.

15. Poetry. Read some poetry to your family. Make up limericks about family members.

16. Construction. Make a scrapbook, photo album, mobile, or puzzle.

THE APPOMATTOX Long-Term Care Coordinating Committee met recently to discuss plans for the county's long-term elderly-care programs. The committee, under recently passed Virginia legislation, seeks to promote the ability of the elderly to remain in their homes as long as appropriate, to promote cost effectiveness in expenditure of public money for long-term care services, to assure an appropriate supply and mix of long-term care services in the locality, to encourage private sector involvement in development of long-term care programs, and provide the citizens of Central Virginia with information regarding needs and availability of community-based long-term care services. Shown at the meeting are (front, from left) Ginny Fratrick, Appomattox volunteer coordinator; Frances Christie, executive director, Central Virginia Commission on Aging; Dr. Johanna Harris, executive director, Regional Health Department; Jerome Johnson, executive director, Central Virginia Community Services Board (back row, from left) Richard Martin, senior service worker, adult services member, Pre-screening Admissions Committee; Jane Goode, welfare specialist, staff development coordinator; Brenda Richardson, public health nurse, Appomattox County Health Department, Pre-screening Admissions Committee member; Virginia Babcock, director, Appomattox County Department of Social Services; Roland Murphy, director, Tenth Judicial Court Services Unit; H.W. Colepan, Jr., member representative, Appomattox County Board of Supervisors; and Shirley Walton, VPI extension agent, Appomattox County.

Rocks news

By Cassie Baldwin Here's wishing the editor and all his staff and all the Times-Virginian readers a very Merry Christmas and a Happy Properous New Year. Don't forget the true meaning of Christmas.

Get well wishes go out to Rev. C. V. Wilburn who entered Lynchburg General Hospital on November 28 and had surgery on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Dorothy Garrett of Lynchburg attended church services at Rocks on November 28.

B. C. Massey of Pamplin represented a Southern States meeting in Richmond on November 17-18.

A very large crowd attended the funeral of Mr. John Curtis Caldwell on Tuesday morning, November 30. He had been ill for a long time. He will be greatly missed in the county, home, church and everywhere. Sympathy is extended these families.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeter Witt Wooldridge arrived home here at Appomattox on November 30 where he had surgery in Potomac Hospital in Woodbridge a few weeks ago. Hope he has a quick recovery.

Sympathy goes out to the Pankey families who lost a loved one who was buried on November 28.

Cylde Burrell went back to work on Thursday, Dec. 2. May he have a speedy recovery.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Conner who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on November 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reeser and daughter spent Thanksgiving in Tennessee.

The Rocks Community Club had their Christmas party at Maude's Restaurant on Thursday night, Dec. 2. They exchanged gifts and had a nice crowd out.

Willard Fleshman died at his home Thursday, Dec. 2. Sympathy goes out to this family.

Mrs. Hawkins, mother of Mrs. Shirley Jennings, died at home of her daughter on Thursday. She was visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Jennings. Sympathy is extended this family.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hipps will spend this week end in Tennessee. Mark's father will be 90 years old on Saturday.

Not many at the cannery on Wednesday. It will soon close for Christmas.

Gregg Hipps will arrive on Dec. 21 to spend a leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hipps of Pamplin.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goin who lost their home by fire on last Saturday night, are living in the Dickerson home in the Rocks community.

The Faithful Workers Sunday School class Christmas party will be on December 16 at 1:30 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the church.

Christmas Cantata at Rocks Church will be at the 11 a.m. service on Dec. 19 and Christmas play at 7:30 p.m.

Children's play at Rocks Church is scheduled for Dec. 22 at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lucado of Roanoke and Mrs. Arleen David of Charlotte N.C., visited relatives at Pamplin Thursday.
